Vol. 65, No. 4 CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA 10c Thurs., Jan. 24, 1957

WHERE DID YOU GET THAT, POP? . . . Daryl Rooney, 13-month old son of Police Officer and Mrs. Gordon Rooney, helps his dad measure a 7-inch switch blade knife that Officer Rooney found in the possession of a Marine recently. The Marine was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon but it was ruled that a switch blade knife was not defined in the law so the charges had to be dismissed. Chief of Police Robert J. Locke has a[illegible] City Council to draft an ordinance which would prohibit all switch knives. The matter was referred to the Council's ordinance committee at the last Council meeting.

Cops Keep Busy

Wanderlust Strikes Kids

Although a flurry of juvenile wanderings upset three households in Campbell last week, all wanderers this week were back in their respective homes, fortunately none the worse for their experiences.

But for a while they kept the local cops pretty busy.

Causing the most sensation was the disappearance last Wednesday of Linda Locke, 15-year old daughter of Chief of Police and Mrs. Robert J. Locke, 300 Christopher Ave. Before Linda was located at the home of her aunt in San Jose on Friday night she had become the object of an all-points alarm broadcast by the Campbell police.

The news of her disappearance was carried by radio, television and daily newspaper and police in three states were on the lookout for her, a Campbell High School sophomore. Possible foul play feared as the intensive search was carried on Wednesday night, all day Thursday and part of Friday. Linda is said to have gone to her aunt's home at 424 N. Fifth St., San Jose on Wednesday night but no explanation was given by the aunt why she had not notified the police of Linda's whereabouts. It is understood, however, that no charges will be brought against her.

Wanderlust also struck two Campbell youngsters on Thursday evening, Dennis Benish, 12-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benish, 1146 Robway and Kenneth Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gordon, 91 Jane Ann Way, took off for San Francisco and other points.

They left word with a grammar school friend that they were going to Mexico on a yacht. They were picked up by South San Francisco juvenile authorities who notified their parents on Saturday. In Souh San Francisco three boys their own age brought them food and helped find them accomodations in an unused car in a vacant lot.

They got to San Francisco via a bus from Sunnyvale. They looked over the ships in the harbor but decided against any long trip this time and started home. Out of money they started to walk. The South San Francisco police got into the act later.

City Gets First Sales Tax Check

Representing only those sales which were reported on October tax returns, the City of Campbell this week received $1,801.34 from the State Board of Equalization This check marked the first income to be received from the city sales tax which went into effect on Ocotber 1, 1956.

In announcing the payment, State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood explained that the current payment does not constitute one-third of the total revenue which may be expected from transactions occurring in the last quarter of 1956.

The payments represent only those sales which were reported on October tax returns and produce only a minor fraction of furth-quarter collections. The bulk of the revenue from fourth-quarter transactions will not be collected until January 31 and will not be ready for distribution until mid-March.

The State Board stressed that receipts on October sales of taxpayers are from taxpayers who file sales tax returns at monthly intervals. The first check also to the City included small amounts of delinquent or unallocated taxes for prior periods.

The State Controller announced that the check to Campbell was included in the sum of $3,965,054 which was distributed to the 24 counties and 170 of their cities. The 24 counties contain 75 per cent of the State's population with the 170 cities participating representing more than half of California's cities. Receiving payments for the first time under the program are eight counties and 42 cities (including Campbell). They join the 147 local governments which had previously received allocations under the Bradley-Burns Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax Law that went into effect on April 1, 1956.

In Santa Clara County, 13 of the 15 cities were recipients of checks ranging from a low of $122.15 for Alviso to a high of $64,088.52 for San Jose. Neither Los Altos Hills nor Saratoga have been incrporated long enugh to have been eligible for October's receipts. Santa Clara County's take on the first check totaled $49,793.58.

Campbell ranked ninth among the cities in the county on the first check; outranking only Morgan Hill, ($1,104.07); Cupertino ($840.22) and Alviso. Other checks to the cities were, Palo Alto ($16,581.94); Mountain View ($8,861.87); Santa Clara ($7,540.34); Sunnyvale ($6,052.70); Los Altos ($4,844.10); Los Gatos ($4,598.99) and Gilroy ($2,540.24).

Rains Halt Work

The recent rains and the promise of more has again postponed the closing of Hamilton Ave. between Central Ave. and the Winchester Road, according to Al Savio of Campbell City Engineer Mark Thomas's office. The equipment is all set to start laying the 42-inch concrete storm drain pipes. Detours will be via Central and Campbell avenues. The drains will be laid beginning at Central Ave., and will proceed west in front of the orchard land to the corner of Esther Ave. There the job will cease until spring, because of the danger of rain stopping the job when the street is dug up in front of the residential section between Esther Ave. and the Winchester Road.

Douglas Beatty Heads Chamber

Douglas Beatty, of the Western Gravel Co., and a director during the past year of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday by his fellow directors. Beatty succeeds Milton Nelson, of Nelson Grain and Supply Co., who served as president in 1956. Nelson still remains a director.

Norman Corvello, of Campbell Hardware, was elected vice-president and Rex Jeffers, of Jeffers Mens and Boys Wear was reelected treasurer. Other directors include, Del Lucot, Lester E. Lafferty, Samuel Reed, Ben Strong, George Vierhus, Gentry Warren, and Martin Walsh.

Appointment of committee chairmen is slated for the next meeting of the directors, February 5 at which time the general chairman for the 65th annual Old Settlers Day will also be announced.

Clear Way for Church Property

Postal Officials Cancel Bid Invitations For Central Avenue Site for Post Office

Climaxing a series of fast-breaking incidents, which kept the wires buzzing between Washington, D. C., San Francisco and Campbell, postal officials this week halted all proceedings for the construction of a new Campbell post office to be located on N. Central Ave. near Grant St.

As a result of the cancellation, the way was cleared to continue with plans to construct a new post office on the old Methodist Church property at Campbell Ave., and Frist St.

It was conceded by postal deparment officials that the Methodist Church property would be favored over the N. Central Ave. site, provided the new owners of the property would be competitive in their bidding. They indicated that a decision would be made on the matter within two weeks.

Postal Officials Here

Two postal officials from San Francisco, Harold J. Cooke, regional real estate manager, and J.F. Dempsey, real estate inspector, met Wednesday morning with Oliver Jensen and Henry Jewell, holders of the option for the purchase of the Methodist Church property. Attending the meeting also were Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Milt Nelson, C. of C. president. The purpose was to iron out details, and explain the procedure that would be necessary to get the post office approval for the Campbell and First St. location.

Receive Option Friday

Jensen, a well known local contractor, and Jewell, a local realtor, acquired their option on the site last Friday night when the Official Board of the First Mehodist Church granted them a 90-day option for the purchase of the property for $50,000.

The option, according to Rev. Herbert W. Neale, pastor of the church, included a written guarantee that the sale would be completed pending the approval of a duly called meeting of the Quarterly Conference and meeting of the members of the church on February 3. This is the regular procedure of the church, the Rev. Neale explained, and approval was expected because the Official Board gave unanimous approval to the sale Friday. He said 36 members of the board were present.

The minister also reported that the Official Board at the same meeting directed the Building Committee to bring in plans for Unit 2, the educational building for the new church on Winchester Road.

Cancels Tuesday

The final cancellation of negotiations for the N. Central Ave. site for the post office came on Tuesday on a directive out of Washington, D. C. after Jensen and Jewell had contacted Cooke in San Francisco on Monday armed with their option.

The first notice that the N. Central Ave. deal had been called off came from Rep. Charles Gubser in Washington, D. C. He telephoned The Press that proceedings had been halted and that the regional office in San Francisco had been instructed to countermand the invitations to bid that had been sent out for the N. Central Ave. spot.

The post office some time ago had acquired a land option for the site on N. Central owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kennedy. A use permit for the erection of the office had also been approved by the Planning Commission. Al Conley, local real estate agent, has been handling the sale for the Kennedys.

Almost simultaneously with the announcement that postal officials were proceeding with plans to have the post office on N. Central, a wave of opposition to the location arose from all quarters in town. The chief objections to the site were narrowness of the street, lack of parking space and the difficulty in developing the surrounding area.

Because the post office department had proceeded so far with its negotiations, it was first felt that it would be difficult to stop the proceedings. However, once the postal officials recognized the strong opposition to the location they acted immediately to recall the actions had set the machinery in action.

Both Cooke and Dempsey told The Press that they were interested in finding a location for an office that would meet with the approval of the citizens. They both indicated their willingness to cooperate to the fullest.

Sacramento Aftermath

High School District Considers Compromise to Settle Site Dispute

Campbell Union High School District came to somewhat of a compromise yeserday with the owners of a proposed future high school site, for which the district has instituted condemnation proceedings.

The site in question is 43 acres on the San Jose-Los Gatos Road, north of the Southern Pacific railroad crossing, between Blackford Ave. and Leon Way. The bulk of the property is owned by the Joseph F. Sanfilippo family and Joseph Trainia. It contains the recently constructed $75,000 home of Dr. Phillip Sanfilippo.

Money originally allocated for purchase of the site is $531,000. Further approval, however, from the State Board of Allocations is necessary before the money becomes avilable.

Last Monday in Sacramento, Anthony Anastasi, San Jose attorney, representing the owners of the si4te, appeared before the State Allocations Board and charged that the district would spend more than one-third of a million dollars more than necessary if it bought the site as originally planned.

He also contended that the site would be a hazardous and impractical one because the projected school would face the already car-clotted San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

The attorney went on to propose two additional sites, which he said the district could procure for less money. One of them is between Downey and Palmer avenues, along the east side of the proposed Route 5 freeway; the other is at the souhwest corner of Fruitdale Ave. and Meridian Road.

Anastasi was told by John M. Pierce, state director of finance and chairman of the allocation board, that it would be unfair for the Board to hear testimony on the matter without all parties concerned being represented.

It happened, however, that Laurance J. Hill, superintendent of the high school district, happened to be present for Anastasi's protestations. Hill was in Sacramento with a group of high school students touring the capitol.

He said that Anastasi's proposed sites were not suitable for schools, and that the Sanfilippo-Trainia site has the approval of the County Planning Commission

February 5

School Election

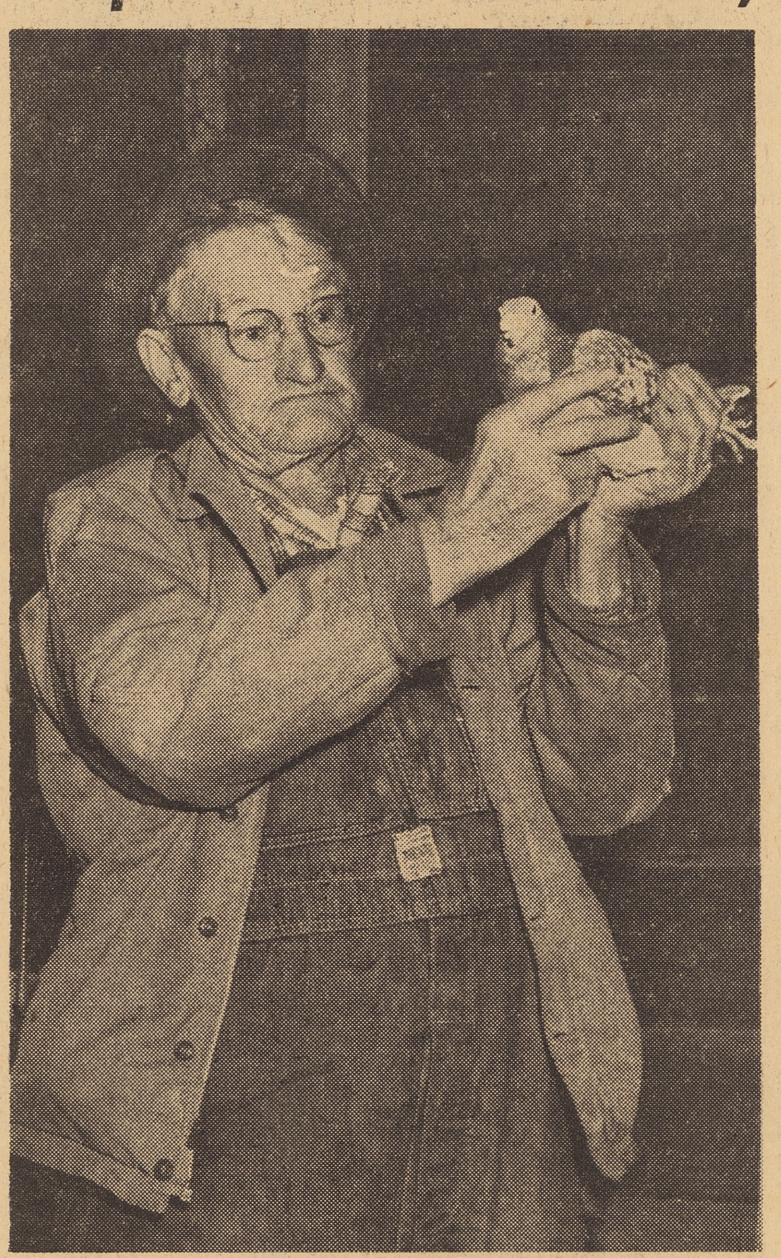
The big bond and state-aid school election ($16.5 million worth) is looming on the Campbell horizon. February 5 is the date for residents of the Campbell Union High School District and Campbell Union (Elementary) District to okay the funds the two districts need for the near future.

Enrollment in the high school district's two schools is currently approximately 2884 students. It is expected that by 1965 the high school population will be 7581 students. Three new high schools are to be built to take care of the flood.

The elementary district has an enrollment of about 6100 students right now. It is estimated that the figure will have doubled by 1961 to 12,000 students. To accomodate them, the district proposes to add three or four new schools to its existing 10 by 1961.

They Ain't Just 'For the Birds'

Campbell Old-Timer Raises, Races Homing Pigeons



A COUPLE OF OLD TIMERS . . . Albert Sheerer, local pigeon fancier, holds "Ikey" a veteran homing pigeon. The bird flew from The Dalles, Oregon to San Jose, a distance of some 570 miles, in 15 hours. That was in 1945—12 years ago—when "Ikey was a spring chicken (pigeon) of two years of age. "Ikey's" 14 now; and that's not young for a pigeon, but he can look back to that flight, which until he did it had never before been done.—Photo by Bill Howarth

By Bill Howarth

Almost any fine morning or afternoon one can see Albert Sheerer excercising his homing-pigeons, which he keeps in two lofts on the vacant ground behind the Campbell Glass and Upholstery Co., on Winchester Road.

Albert has some 35 birds, and is a member of the Santa Clara Valley Pigeon Club, organized primarily to race homing-pigeons. He lives at 200 Dillon Ave., Campbell.

Albert has been interested in raising pigeons as a hobby for about 18 years. He was born in Germany and came to the United States in 1903. He retired from his job as caretaker at the Santa Clara County Hospital in 1949, since then he has devoted much of his time to the pigeons.

The Pigeon Club races its birds each June, according to Albert. Last June club members took their birds to Winnamucca, Nevada, and released them to fly home. Time is taken when the birds are released, and by the owner when the birds arrive at their home loft, thus the winners are determined. Albert says that a bird must be inside the loft before it is considered "home." Therefore, it won't do for a bird to stand around contemplating whether it should or shouldn't enter. The owner has to get out and make its mind up for it—quick.

No one really knows what makes a homing-pigeon come home. It's the same uncanny animal instinct that makes salmon return to the very river-tributary in which they were born.

Instead of flying around in a confused state until it becomes victim to the hunter, starvation, weather or birds of prey, the pigeon heads for the old homestead.

Pigeons do come in pretty banged up sometimes, Albert says. Occasionally they have been shot, or mauled by an eagle or hawk.

Before the inception of rapid communication, homing-pigeons were used extensively in warfare. Until as recently as the last war pigeons have been used to carry vital messages at the front lines. When radio contact has been broken and telephone lines out, a pigeon has carried the messages.

In World War I, a bird called "Bon Ami" saved a regiment surrounded by the enemy. Birds have been awarded The Purple Heart for their service.

In some countries falcons have been trained to intercept pigeons in wartime. The Chinese provided their pigeons with bells to scare away the birds of prey.

One of Albert's birds, "Ikey" by name, is a 14 year old veteran with a record to his name. In 1945 "Ikey" flew 570 miles from The Dalles, Oregon, to San Jose in 15 hours. The speed averages about 1106 yards a minute. That's pretty good, considering it didn't have a propellor.

The United States Army recently announced that they have no more need for homing-pigeons. Too many jet planes. Albert used to supply pigeons to Fort Ord, and The Presidio in San Francisco. He said that the Army advises pigeon fanciers to keep on raising and training the birds, in case the need for them again arises. That's what Albert intends to do.

Albert keeps the genders separated, and exercises the females in the morning and the males in the afternoon. He just lets them fly around and then calls them back.

A homing-pigeon is trained when young by "tossing" or liberating it at gradually increasing distances from its home loft.

Belgium may be considered as the home of the sport of pigeon racing, the first birds flown there probably coming from Holland. It was introduced into the United States about the year 1875.

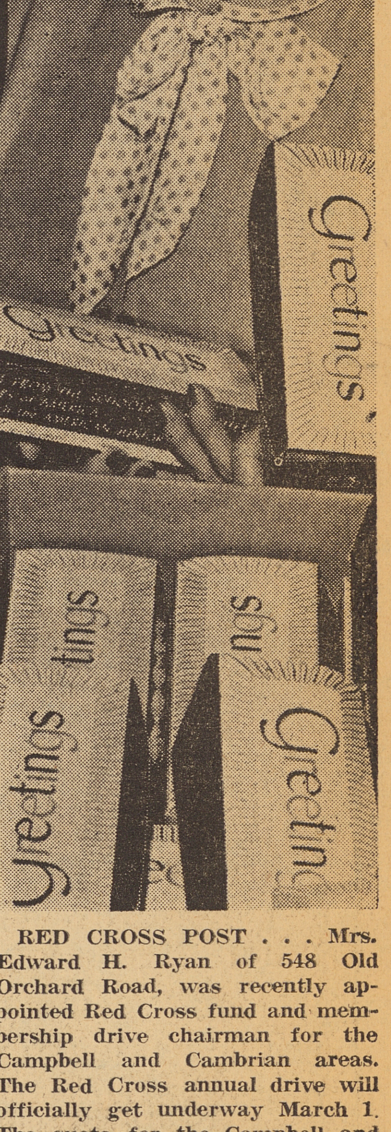
Chuck Kaffer Wins Speaking Award

Chuck Kaffer, student at Campbell High School, was named winner of the annual Lions Club Public speaking contest, held at the Country Woman's Club Tuesday night.

The topic of the speech was "My Place In The World Of 1976." Other speakers, taking the same subject were Richard Daniels and Lani Cahill, both of Campbell High.

Kaffer received a trophy from the Lions, and becomes eligible to compete in the zone contest. Final step in the contest is the District 4 contest, the winner of which receives a $1500 award.

The speaking contest was accompanied by a dinner and Lions meeting. H. E. Alfson, assistant principal of Camden High School, gave a brief address on the school district's need for passing the $7 million state-aid and $2 million bond issue to be voted on February 5.



RED CROSS POST . . . Mrs. Edward H. Ryan of 548 Old Orchard Road, was recently appointed Red Cross fund and membership drive chairman for the Campbell and Cambrian areas. The Red Cross annual drive will officially get underway March 1. The quota for the Campbell and Cambrian areas has been set at $5720. Last year's quota was $4638. Mrs. Ryan has been impressed with the work of the Junior Red Cross in the Campbell area. Last year the children prepared and sent 5000 gift boxes to youngsters overseas, she said.

Tax Official Cuts Down Phone Use

Information on homeowners' tax bills no longer will be given over the telephne, County Tax Collector Roy Emerson reported this week.

Increasing number of such queries has made it necessary to eliminate this service, according to the collector.

"It's gotten to be too big a job," he said. "We just don't have the personnel."

Homeowners still can come to the tax office in the Hall of Justice at Market and W. St. James streets and get the information from the tax roll. The roll is a public document, Emerson said.

This time of year the collector gets a heavy flood of calls from citizens whose tax bills go directly to a lending agency.

Some agencies merely tell the homeowners how taxes affect his monthly house payment and do not give an accounting of the taxes, Emerson said.

Under the law, the homeowner can require the lending institution to give him this information if he requests it in writing, according to Emerson.

The United States consumes well over half of the world's green coffee imports.

13,000 College Grads Value Study Of English High

English is the most valuable course of study in the average college curriculum both to a business career and to the enjoyment of leisure time, according to a survey just completed by the General Electric Company of more than 13,000 of its college graduate employees.

Dividing the employees polled into the broad categories of engineering and noon-engineering graduates, the company found that non-engineering respondents placed English first on the list of subject areas that contributed most to career sucess, while engineering respondents placed it second only to mathematics.

Both groups voted English literature the most important subject for leisure time activities.

In addition to English communications (both written and oral) and mathematics, both groups cited physics and economics as important to career success. These four subjects were considered to be of extreme value regardless of the respondent's academic background or type of employment.

The suvey revealed the least valuable subject areas, judged from a career standpoint alone, inincluded history, foreign language, miscellaneous sciences (biology, botany, geology, etc.) and certain social sciences.

Following English literature in contribution to leisure time, both groups cited the value of history, science and engineeritng, economics, physics, mathematics, and philosophy. Liberal arts graduates tended to indicate a greater breadth of "value courses" in the non-science areas.

A summary of the general findings of the survey could be interpreted as a strong vote of confidence for a broad liberal educattion with specialization, if any, occurring at the graduate level, the survey indicated.

Respondents found it difficult to decide whether teaching personality or subject matter had been of more lasting influence.

The survey showed that approximately 90 per cent of the respondents earned some portion of their collegiate expenses and that of these more than two-thirds earned at least half of their expenses. Just over a quarter of the respondents signified they had received some form of scholarship aid.

Engineers indicated that they participated quite heavily in extra-curricular activities, even more so than did the liberal arts graduates. Those who did not participate generally were prevented by financial problems demanding a heavy outside work load, full-time employment causing attendance at night school or early marriage and its attendant responsibilities. Athletics, social groups and professional associattions were the most important types of outside activity enjoyed.

Some 70 per cent of the engineers felt that certain benefits were realized as compared to 65 per cent of the liberal arts graduates. Particular mention is made of activities such as offices held in social fraternities and professional organizations.

The results of the General Electric Company study strongily pointed up the generally satisfaction of most alumni with their alma maters. Three-quarters of the liberal arts graduates would choose the same college if they had the opportunity of college choice again. Engineers were even more satisfied, as almost 85 per cent indicated the same choice would be made again.

California produces better than 80 per cent of the nation's apricots, grapes, avocados and certified alfalfa seed.

Looks at Record

Campbell Chamber of Commerce Reviews Year in Annual Report

With the naming of new officers for 1957 the Campbell Chamber of Commerce faces a new year of endeavor and looks back at some of its accomplishments during 1956 in its annual report, which was distributed to members this week.

Heading the list of accomplishments in the report was the preparation of a new map of Campbell, sponsorship of one of the biggest Old Settlers' Day Celebrations in history, annexation of approximately 100 acres to the city, and the Chambers' aiding in the finding of suitable locations for the new Campbell Post Office.

The board of directors of the Chamber was increased from five to eleven members early last January. And for the first time in the Chamber's history a full-time secretary-manager was appointed.

Membership, according to the report, has increased 10 per cent above the highest previous record.

In 196, the report says, the Chamber made more than 3000 direct inquiries on Campbell, ranging from inquiries about business locations, child care, rentals, lodges, civic activities, annexations, industrial development, and highway promotions.

Two thousand maps of the city were distributed by the Chamber in the first six months of 1956. More than 10,000 pieces of mail were posted by the Chamber during the year, according to the report.

The new map which the Chamber has compiled points out the advantages of Campbell as an ideal residential, commercial and industrial locations, and gives much other pertinent data on the City.

Twenty thousand people attended the Old Settlers' Day celebration last May. It was sponsored by the Chamber, and is the second oldest celebration in California, according to the Chamber's report. The largest parade ever held in Campbell highlighted the celebration. Fourteen musical organizations, plus 147 entries participated.

Two annexations of approximately 100 acres were completed last year by the Chamber. Five other annexations have been approved by the Boundary Commission in the last few weeks and will probably be officially completed at an early date, the report indicated.

The Chamber's active campaign to bring industries to Campbell in the past year has resulted in seven firms purchasing land on the two annexations.

They are: Noel J. Brown and Co.,, D. W. Dorance, A. J. Hosmer Corp., Cascade Research Corp., James Fulk Printing Co., Tweco Co., and Key-Hak Electric Hacksaw Co.

The Chamber submitted resolutions urging the completion of Route 5 by the California State Highway Commission. It is expected that work will start on the highway at the beginning of April, acording to the report.

In other actions, the Chamber submitted several likely locations to the postal inspector for the new Campbell Post Office.

The Chamber sponsored three booths at the County Fair last year. They featured a cross-section of Campbell business, manufacture and literature, and were seen by approximately 250,000 people, the report says. The Chamber also sponsored a queen candidate to the Fair.

Recent Survey Indicates Bay Area May Favor Rapid Transit System

A recently conducted public opinion survey has indicated that more than 80 per cent of the residents of six Bay Area counties (including Santa Clara County), may favor construction of a regional rapid transit system.

The opinion sampling, conducted by means of a printed questionnaire mailed to property owners in six Bay Area counties, indicated that 90 per cent of the respondents want their communities included in construction plans.

Nestor Barrett, Santa Clara County member of the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission and chairman of the Public Relations committee expressed his satisfaction on the results of the survey.

"It is evident," he said, "that the people are interested in and concerned about the transportation problems of the Bay Area."

Following are the questions asked and the percentage of yes and no answers given by Santa Clara County respondents:

Do you consider (present commuting arrangements and facilities) satisfactory (61), fair (29), poor (8).

"Do you feel that a rapid transit system would affect the property value in your community?" Yes-68, No-17.

"If yes (to previous question) in what way?" Increase (89), Decrease (10).

"If an interurban system were in operation that would supply service on frequent schedules, at speeds that would average 45 miles per hour, and at fares equal to or less than the cost of operating your car, would you use this transportation in preference to your car for trips into cities and congested areas?" Yes-87, No-12.

"Do you feel your city and county should be included in any future construction program?" Yes-85, No-5.

The rapid transit questionnaire was prepared in collaboration with the Stanford Research Institute. The survey was conducted by Herbert Corwin and Staff, public relations counsel for the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission.

and the State Department of Education.

A meeting was held yeserday at the district office between district officials and Anastasi and his clients. A possible solution to the altercation over the property was discussed.

It is proposed that the owners retain frontage on the San Jose-Los Gatos road, which, according to Anastasi has a high commercial value. The school would be moved back from the road, and would face Del Mar Ave., which would be extended for that purpose. It runs parallel to the San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

By extending the avenue and building the school on it, the problem of parking and overloading the already overloaded San Jose-Los Gatos Road would diminish.

The district will take over the house on the property, which is the residence of Dr. Phillip Sanfilippo, according to Hill. Additional adjacent land will be purchased to compensate for that facing the San Jose-Los Gatos Road retained by the owners.

Hill said that the proposal has been discussed before, but now that there has been a "clashing of horns" it is being considered seriously.

The site is one of three in the district, two of them purchased already, for high schools to be completed by 1965.

Santa Clara lost their first C.B.A. game this week to the the Fresno State Bull Dogs 64-61. It was an even game all the way through, but the Bulldogs were a little better shooting from the foul line. Santa Clara was leading 61-60 in the last two minutes. Gilmore was fouled, but missed the basket on free throw. Fresno took possession, made a basket and then scored on two free throws. Santa Clara now has a 3-1 C.B.A. record.

Ray Coe, a model airplane enthusiast for twenty years, will discuss his hobby and introduce a new model of his own when Saratoga-Kiwanis Club observes "Fathers and Sons Night" tonight at 6:30 at La Hacienda.

Coe's model embodies a light, simple construcion and mounts an engine normally found in much heavier models. A color movie, never before seen on Bay Area TV, abut model planes and their enthusiasts, will also be shown. Blue Angels, Navy's ace acrobatic jet team, will complete the program.

Indians Scalp Bucs

Fremont Indians took the measure of the Campbell Buccaneers last Saturday night on the loser's court by the score of 54-40. It was the first league loss for the Bucs and the second win for the Indians. Campbell's league record now stands at 1-1.

Campbell played the Indians on even terms in the first quarter and late into the second quarter but lost valuable ground in the third quarter when they were outscored 15-5. By the end of the first half Fremont had an 8 point lead 29-21 but their fabulous shooting in the third quarter opened an 18 point lead by the end of the third canto 44-26.

Dan Ortiz led the winners with his smooth as silk jump shot and good rebounding legs with Bud Bowling getting in some key passes to bewilder the Bucs. Ortiz hit for 16 with Bowling dropping in 11. Big Bob Mathieson also had a good night tipping in some close shots and hitting some fine jumps to bring his total up to 13 by the game's end.

Jerry Shenefiel sparked the Buc attack with fast footwork and fine offensive rebounding. Shenefiel led all scorers with 17 counters to his credit. Gene Andres brought down some fine rebounds for the Bucs as well as score 6 points along with Roger Almquist and Ron Rowe.

In the preliminary game the Fremont thirties handed the little Bucs a first class defeat when they thumped the Bucs 44-35 behind the 16 point effort of Signes. Height was the main disadvantage for the Bucs as the taller Indians outrebounded the Campbell Bucs.

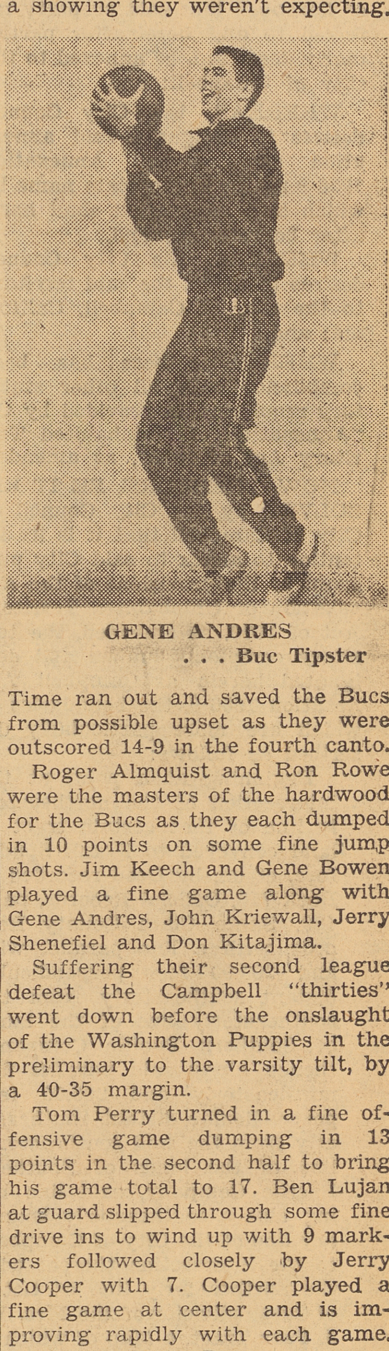
Campbell Tipsters Eke Out Win Over Washington, 40-36

Staving off a last minute scoring threat the Buccaneers of Campbell managed to squeak past the Washington Huskies 40-36 on the winners home court Tuesday afternoon. Campbell now has a 2-1 league record. The Bucs play Los Gatos this Friday evening at 7:30 in the Campbell gym in another league tilt.

First half action was dominated by the Bucs who had no trouble scoring from both outside and in close. Jumping off to a 14-4 first quarter score the Bucs looked as if they were going to run away with the game. By half time the Bucs were ahead 22-14 but the third quarter was slow for the Bucs as they cooled off and Washington closed the gap to within 4 points only to have the Bucs come back strong late in the quarter to come out on the long end of the 31-22 third quarter score.

Washington caught fire in the fourth quarter and gave the Bucs a showing they weren't expecting.



GENE ANDRES
. . . Buc Tipster

Time ran out and saved the Bucs from possible upset as they were outscored 14-9 in the fourth canto.

Roger Almquist and Ron Rowe were the masters of the hardwood for the Bucs as they each dumped in 10 points on some fine jump shots. Jim Keech and Gene Bowen played a fine game along with Gene Andres, John Kriewall, Jerry Shenefiel and Don Kitajima.

Suffering their second league defeat the Campbell "thirties" went down before the onslaught of the Washington Puppies in the preliminary to the varsity tilt, by a 40-35 margin.

Tom Perry turned in a fine offensive game dumping in 13 points in the second half to bring his game total to 17. Ben Lujan at guard slipped through some fine drive ins to wind up with 9 markers followed closely by Jerry Cooper with 7. Cooper played a fine game at center and is improving rapidly with each game.

Swim Season Nears; Coach Eyes NCS Crown

Campbell High Swim Coach, Leonard Scroggins called a meeting of all swimmers and divers last Thursday in an effort to have things rolling smoothly as possible for the team as soon as swimming season starts.

Pool rules, and training regulations were two main topics. One bright note came about when Coach Scroggins expressed his belief that the Varsity has a very good chance of taking the Northern California Championship as well as the SCVAL crown. He further said the if Campbell ever takes these championships, "It's gotta be now!"

Work outs will begin Feb. 4, and the first meet will be on March 21 with Los Gatos.

Any boy interested in trying out for the swim team should contact Mr. Scroggins.

Farnham Starts Library Club

During the past week, Albert Vatuone, principal of Farnham School of the Cambrian School District, received a banner designating membership in the Library Club of America, Inc., a non-profit organization sponsored by the Book Manufacturers' Institute.

Its plan is to encourage children in the age range of 8-14 to read. Modelling its method of operation after the Boy Scouts plan of merit badges, the Institute has its own banner for members, and it sends, without cost, buttons to those children who read 4 books, honor member pins to those reading another six books, and a life member pin to those who read another eight. The latter become life members if they promise to read at least two books per month. This group then forms its own library club council.

At a recent assembly, Vatuone presented awards to Karen Astalfa, Kenneth Steward, and Mike Moore of Mrs. Violet Pomeroy's class. Patty Johnson and Freddie Markaway of Robert Meek's class earned their awards, while Bill Strickland, Sharon Evans, Judy Payne, and Diana Kennedy of Albert Handley's class received their initial awards.

Mrs. Irene Cook's class at Bagby School had five children who earned awards. Roger Schwab, Barbara Morthowitz, Phillip Montes, Margaret Maxwell, and Karin Markham received member buttons. Margaret Maxwell and Karen Markham also received honor member pins for reading an additional six books.

Moreland Plans Evacuation Drill

At the January meeting of the Moreland School P.T.A., George Robertson, school trustee, explained the plans that have been made for practice evacuation drills, which will start sometime in February. Parents will receive further information from the school.

A scholarship to the College of Pacific Music Camp, will be awarded to some deserving eighth grade student by the Moreland P.T.A.

The guest speaker was E. C. F. Cole, Human Relations Consultant of Los Gatos, who spoke on the science of handwriting. He gave various demonstrations on understanding people through their handwriting.

Ken Harnes, Recreation Chairman, announced that the Boy Scouts in Moreland School District are collecting papers and magazines to raise funds so that two scouts can attend the Boy Scout Jamboree in Valley Forge. If you have papers or magazines to donate, please call Mr. Cada at Axminster 6-6304.

Mrs. Joseph Gallo, Health and Student Welfare chairman, asked that anyone having good, wearable clothing, shoes or rain-wear they no longer need, to leave them with the school nurse. This clothing will be distributed to needy children.

Refreshments were served by Mr. George Sewell's sixth grade mothers.

Cubs Visit Museum Planetarium in S. F.

Campbell Cub Scout Pack 74 visited the De Young Museum and the Morrison Planetarium in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, last Saturday. Thirty four cubs and eleven dads took the trip, led by Cubmaster Don Handcock and his assistant, Gordon Maybury.

The trip was part of the cub "theme of the month," which is "Eyes in the Sky."

As an added thrill for the boys, the trip to San Francisco was made via Oakland, with a "voyage" across the bay on the ferry.

Methodist Church Sponsors Refugee

Joseph Koltai of Hungary is no longer a refugee—he is among friends.

When the official board of the First Methodist Church here met last Friday, it was decided to sponsor a refugee from Hungary and on Saturday evening, the Fireside Fellowship met and agreed unanimously to act for the church in helping the refugee to adjust to his new home and to life in America.

A committee meeting was held Sunday evening to work out details for the refugee who will be arriving soon. The pressure is reportedly so great at the centers where refugees are held temporarily, that he was flown to California from the east coast last Monday and is now a part of the First Methodist family.

Joseph Koltai, a skilled cabinet maker and upholsterer, is a victim of the recent disturbances in Hungary and has become separated from his family, which includes, his wife, a daughter eighteen and a son fourteen. Arrangements to reunite the family will be made by the church as soon as possible.

The Committee charged with the responsibility of helping the new member is composed of: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wurfer, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Helmbold, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Estok, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Rhyne, Mrs. Paul Stevens, Miss Etta Peoples, and Rev. Herbert Neale.

Mrs. Claude Barham and Mrs. Charles Wood are Sunshine chairmen and will be assisted by other club members in the project.

The Club also discussed their participation, as one of the hostess clubs, at the coming District 4-C meeting. Mrs. H. M. Wagner will be on the decorations committee, Mrs. S. O. Lombard, on the cleanup committee, and Mrs. Malcolm Blue, in charge of door prizes.

Welcoming newcomers in the area to attend Club meetings was also discussed, and the club's policy of extending a helping hand to area newcomers with their gardening problems. New Club members who are also new in the area, are given garden showers.

The February 20 meeting will be held in the Cambrian Youth Center at 9:30 a.m. with child care available in an adjoining room.

The March 15 meeting will be an evening meeting at the Martin Farnham School, 15711 Woodard Road, San Jose, which will start with a potluck supper. Members and their friends are invited to attend. Child care will be provided, free of charge as usual, in an adjoining room.

Industrial Planning Is Important

Two of the toughest problems facing the fast-growing cities of Santa Clara County are tied together: (1) Where to put the new industries that a e coming here and (2) Once the industries are here what to do with them.

We feel that the Campbell Chamber of Commerce with its sister Chambers in the County are doing right in attempting to attract industrial firms to their respective communities.

It is basic that these industries mean more payrolls for a community and, in addition, make for a more substantial tax base.

But as Dutch Hamann, city manager of San Jose, pointed out in his recent talk before the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, progress is expensive business and we cannot expect to get something for nothing.

We consider the steps taken, through the initiative of the Chamber of Commerce, of annexing areas at the southern city limits for an industrial park as one of the most forward moves in recent years.

But it takes more than just annexing an area to the city for an industrial park . . . period.

There is a definite responsibility that follows.

A complete plan of improvements that will be necessary in such an area should be drafted. The plan should take into consideration just how far the City should go and how much costwise the industrial firms must bear.

We are pleased to note that in the industrial park that is being established at the southern city limits of Campbell that both the Campbell and Los Gatos Planning Commissions are cooperating in the planning. The park, as you know, will be partly in Los Gatos and partly in Campbell and a city limit sign, in this case, should have no particular bearing on the development.

We think this cooperative effort between the two cities is an excellent move. But we hasten to add that it is necessary to move fast in this situation. A number of firms are already chafing at the bit and are ready to let dirt fly in their respective expansion programs.

We agree with 'em that it would be smart to know just how this dirt should fly and in what direction.

Campbell and Los Gatos Agree

The City Council of Campbell and the Town Council of Los Gatos recently met around a conference table and discussed their common interests and problems and the city officials discovered they had a number of similar headaches. But what was even better they were able to reach an understanding on most of them. It was comparatively easy to find a common denominator.

Because of recent annexations on the part of both cities, the boundary lines between the two are practically contigious in many spots. One of the points of the meeting was to see if the two city groups couldn't work out boundary lines that would meet with each city's approval. The idea would be to avoid any overlapping in future annexations so that one city would not extend into the other's "sphere of influence."

The two groups of City Fathers had no trouble in coming to an understanding and by a gentleman's agreement established a line which roughly extends along Parr Ave.

We commend both Councils for working out things together. There has been entirely too much bickering, arguing and bulldozing tactics between cities in the past with not enough consideration being paid to the needs.

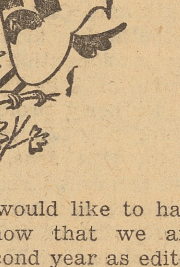
This dog eat dog attitude between cities does no city any good and, as a rule, the taxpayer is the one who suffers.

We feel certain that even should the "gentlemen's agreement" not go on paper but remain a verbal agreement both cities will adhere to it despite any personnel changes in officials in the future.

On the other hand, we feel that this thinking should not hold true in San Jose-Campbell relations. We would prefer that any "gentleman's agreement" between San Jose and Campbell be supplemented by an iron-clad written pact.

We are of the opinion that such a written agreement should be drawn up as soon as possible. We understand that preliminary negotiations have already established boundary lines between San Jose and Campbell; so we suggest that the results be put on paper now.

Any delay in getting a definite idea of how the future city limit lines of the two cities will wander over the countryside will do neither Campbell nor San Jose any good.



OUT on the LIMB
with
George Vierhus

We would like to have the record show that we are starting our second year as editor and publisher of The Campbell Press.

Don't get us wrong. We know this is no earth-shaking achievement but we thought we ought to put it in here some place. And this column of ours is as good a place as any for it.

The year has passed quickly. In fact we haven't had an opportunity to really do half the things we wanted to because there has not been enough time.

But it has been a very eventful year and one that we can mark in red on our calendar for a variety of reasons.

We are enjoying ourself immensely in trying our very best to do a job in the very best way we know how.

During the year we have received a number of brickbats (But hardly any more than we had coming to us). We have a sneaking idea that we will have more of the same tossed at us as time goes on.

—o—

Although we realized that we were bound to have those brickbats and we must take 'em in stride, there have been a number of bouquets also which do soften the blows.

We mentioned that at Christmastime we received a card from a family in town in which it stated that the senders appreciated our editorial viewpoint. We didn't know the people at the time (later they came into the office) and that is what made us feel so pleased.

We also have received notes from people whom we knew expressing their appreciation of our editorial stand and what we have been trying to do.

We were stopped by a total stranger at the recent Chamber of Commerce dinner and informed that the person liked our stuff. All this does our ego good.

In our opinion the bouquets have far outweighed the brickbats during the year.

We don't know how the score will stand at the end of 1957 but it is just dandy to know that we are "getting through" one way or t'other.

—o—

As we stop to recall the activities of the past year, our first year in Campbell, we realize that our one- year -regime doesn't stack up too well against the record of Mrs. Edna Smith, 61 N. 2nd St. For 33 years Mrs. Smith was at the helm of The Campbell Press.

She and her husband, the late Harry C. Smith, purchased the paper in 1912 from Lewis C. Dick and A. B. Chamberlin. The Smiths came here from Pingree, North Dakota where they had operated the "Pingree Patriot".

Mr. Smith passed away in 1937 and for the next eight years Mrs. Smith conducted the paper with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knappen. In 1945 she sold The Press to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Allen.

Mrs. Smith, who has continued to keep a lively interest in things journalistically, as far as Campbell is concerned, visits with us at frequent intervals and we have thoroughly enjoyed her visits.

—o—

On a recent visit to the office by her we took a number of notes of her recollections of 33 years at the helm of The Press. We also shot her picture posed with the 1912 issue announcing the purchase by the Smiths, the 1945 issue announcing the sale by her to the Martins and a current issue.

For good measure we included the framed copy of Volume 1, Number 1, June 7, 1895, of the Campbell Weekly Visitor, the predecessor to the whole shebang.

Much to our regret the early files of the paper are quite incomplete. So far our research has not uncovered when the Campbell Weekly Visitor turned into the Campbell Interurban Press, the name on the masthead when the Smiths purchased it in 1912.

By 1945 when Mrs. Smith sold the paper, "Interurban" had been dropped from the name-plate and it had become Campbell Press.

—o—

The latest masthead change simply added "The" to it and so it is now The Campbell Press. We are not sure if it makes any difference whether it is The Campbell Press or just plain Campbell Press. But, at least, that's the official name.

As we said we have taken notes on our interview with Mrs. Smith and we plan to run a story and her picture one of these days.

We think having the same publisher for 33 years in Campbell is deserving of mention, especially in view of the number who have followed since 1945.

—o—

This reminds us that Judge John Blaine, who has been around Campbell for more than 60 years, took time out from one of his regular tennis games recently to pedal down to our office on his bike to have one of his too infrequent chats with us.

(By the way, before the Smiths came here the Judge's family were connected with the paper also, so the Judge has been interested in the paper's welfare throughout the years.)

In the course of setting us right on some background material as far as the town was concerned, Judge Blaine wanted to know how long we were going to stick around the community.

We are not exactly sure but we think he put it this way: "And when are you going to be leaving?"

He then hastened to explain that he wasn't urging us to go but was just curious in face of the many changes in ownership during recent years.

We told him that we had no intention of leaving. We liked it too well here.

That still stands, Judge.

How about coming in for another chat?

—o—

Rumors were rampant this week among Campbell Rotary Club members that two prominent members of the club would soon be confronted with conclusive evidence proving their inability to act as judges of distance, time or size.

Those conducting the "investigation" refused to reveal details other than to report that the matter had something to do with a golf trophy recently awarded to another club member.

Dr. Karl M. Block, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, will speak on "The Function of the Church in Contemporary Society", at this Sunday evening's Community Forum at the First Mehodist Church, Fifth and Santa Clara Streets. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Bishop Block was ordained in 1910, and was a Chaplain in World War I. He has served as Rector of many of the nation's largest Episcopal churches. He is presently Rector of Grace Cathedral in San Francisco.

Postal Service Records Growth

An impressive record of growth and improvement in postal service in California, Nevada and Hawaii was made during calendar year 1956, Post Office Department Regional Director Verne Scroggins said today in releasing statistics for the year.

Total receipts during 1956 were $223,760,000, a gain of 6.02 per cent, or $12.7 million over 1955. The number of postal employees used to handle the steadily growing volume of mail increased by 2,463 during the year. The region now has 44,443 employees who were paid $193,666,000.

The volume of mail originating at post offices in the region showed an estimated increase of 529,306,000 pieces, or 11,55 per cent. This includes an approximate 5.55 per cent increase in airmail volume. The estimated total mail volume for the year was 5,111,934,000 (billions) pieces.

Writers' Council Plans Conference For This Spring

Valley Writers Council attended a luncheon Saturday January 19 in Menlo Park to lay the groundwork for the 12th Annual Valley Writers Conference to be held in May. There were 36 men and women representing 15 writing groups from Burlingame south to San Jose and Los Gatos, represented.

Any Adult Creative Writing class, or any organization or club seriously interested in the writing field is eligible for membership in this Council. However, deadline for such application is February 20. Any group interested may contact Mrs. C. D. Snyder CY 5-6443, or Mrs. Marion Royle UN 7-3257.

Members of any group represented in the Council may contribute one or two manuscripts to two of thirteen categories including short stories, articles, poetry, etc. Manuscripts are read by competent judges. First prizes will once more be gold cups, second and third prizes are scrolls and certificates.

The Conference has been held each year at the Villa Montalvo, Saratoga in the spring. First prize manuscripts are read aloud during the morning session. Well known publishers and writers head the program in the afternoon. The public is invited to attend.

San Jose Chamber Voices Optimism In 1957 Forecast

End of year predictions were made by the San Jose Chamber of Commerce this week indicating continued optimism for increases in most basic factors of growth in San Jose and Santa Clara County, according to Russell E. Pettit, Manager.

Gleaning over Research Department and Industrial Department reports, Pettit forecasts a population in San Jose at the end of 1957 of about 194,148 based on normal growth and future annexations. County-wide, based on an influx of a monthly average of 3,900 new people, population should exceed 563,000.

Other county communities are expected to likewise increase their annexation activity to the degree that each should gain an average ranging between 13 per cent and 19 per cent in population.

Building activity, although affected by referred to tight money (residential only) will still increase to an excess of $180 million county-wide and will exceed $45 million in San Jose during 1957.

This is supported by anticipated increases in industrial building activity already projected to an expected 31 new industries with a capital investment of approximately $47,330,000 and 118 expansioons valued at $32,198,000 for a total gain of $79,525,000.

Further strength is given this thinking by the anticipated increases in school and college building activity which should hit over $4 million.

Balancing the economic picture is employment which continues on the upgrade and should go beyond 200,000 during the peak seasonal month of September — this, of course, being affected by agricultural crops and weather.

Retail sales, however, should exceed $650 million considering the new outlying shopping center developments which will be completed during the summer in time for the 1957 Christmas season. Sales in San Jose, despite outlying area activity, will also go up beyond $400 million as downtown merchants step up their promotion plans and store development programs.

All in all, the Chamber of Commerce looks forward with great enthusiasm to an even more prosperous new year and extends this hope to all in Santa Clara County.

The Parrott Building in San Francisco was built by Chinese laborers who were brought here to assemble the building stones, which had been cut to fit in China.

Setting by W & J Sloane, San Francisco

Choose one of these flattering colors. Or try them all—to accent the beauty of your home (and you). Wonderful things happen—for instance:

PINK: Flatters your complexion . . . brings out hidden beauty . . . makes lipstick, nail polish even more glamorous and exciting.

YELLOW: Fills a room with sunlight . . . warm, intimate, gay . . . brings out the warm tones of brass, copper and wood.

GREEN: Brings the cool, green quiet of the forest inside your home. Freshens greens, blues and yellows.

BLUE: Adds airy new dimensions to rooms . . . makes you look more radiantly alive . . . more youthful in appearance.

P.S. Don't forget white bulbs—best for study lamps, reading or close visual work . . . best to bring out true colors. With P. G. and E.'s bargain rates for electricity you can have good light everywhere (white or tinted)! Why not stock up on light bulbs next time you shop?

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Though not destined to be a best-seller, a book, very important to the American people was published in Washington last week. It was President Eisenhower's budget for the Fiscal Year 1958 (July 1 1957 to June 30, 1958) which was submitted to Congressmen in five-pound paper-covered volumes, totaling 1,250 pages.

If any of you wish a copy, it can be purchased from the Government Printing Office. It will be rather dry reading, but important, because it will tell how $73,620,000,000 of your tax money will be spent in the next Fiscal Year. To put it more dramatically, it will tell how every man, woman and child in the United States will be responsible for spending $460.10.

Even though it reaches a record high in peacetime spending, the budget will be balanced for the third straight year. Red ink is drying up in Washington inkwells. The heavier than usual expenditures are because of the international situation and the need for greater military strength in guided missiles and other very expensive weapons.

Fifty-one cents out of each dollar spent will come from your individual income taxes, twenty-nine cents from excise taxes on your handbags, automobiles, cosmetics, etc., and eight cents from customs, duties and other receipts.

Heavy work in preparing the budget was done last October by a 425-man crew in the Budget Bureau, headed by Budget Director Percival F. Brundage, which worked within a general framework of policy set down by President Eisenhower and his administration. Chief Architect was William Frederick McCandless who last week submitted his eighth budget. A professional engineer and former employee of the Dallas City Government, Mr. McCandless has finished his job of riding herd on the various departments and keeping their budget requests within the over-all policy set up by the administration. During his eight years as a Budget Bureau employee, Mr. McCandless, who works for a salary of $14,800 per year, has supervised the construction of budgets which have spent over $500,000,000,000.

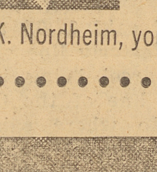
Actual cost of printing the heavy document was $22.91 per copy. A so-called simplified condensation or appendix of the budget is available in a one-pound three-ounce volume, totaling 360 pages. This is the economy-size package and cost the governmnt just a mere $7.06 per copy. Unfortunately, the total figures which will represent '58 spending are just as high in the economy-size as in the giant package.

Preparing budgets is an expensive business. But so is everything else. One look at that $73,620,000,000 figure is proof enough!

SOMBRERO PLAYERS PLAN "OKLAHOMA"

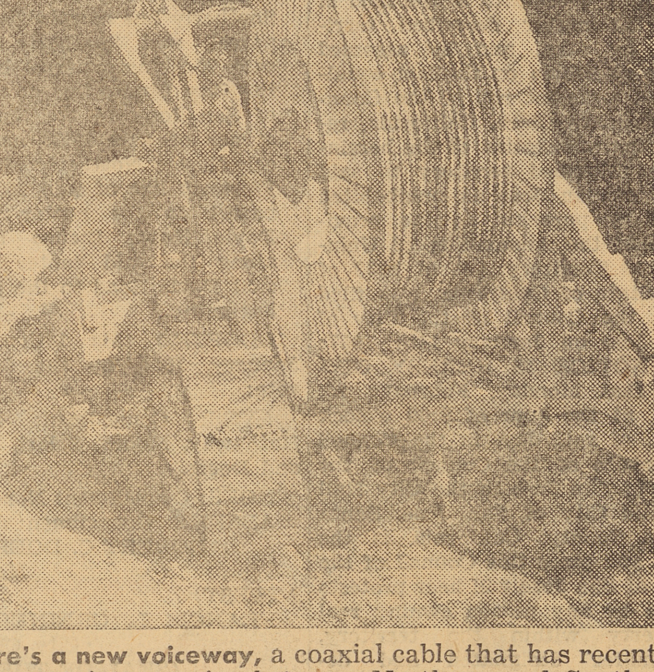
America's perennial musical favorite, "Oklahoma", by Rodgers and Hammerstein, will open tomorrow night for a six day run at the University of Santa Clara Theater. Curtain time is 8:15 o'clock.

The show will be produced by the Sombrero Players of the Santa Clara County Youth Center. The group is now entering its 13th year, and has an active membership of almost 4000 young people from all parts of the County.



WHAT'S DOING

T. K. Nordheim, your Telephone Manager in Campbell



Here's a new voiceway, a coaxial cable that has recently been put into service between Northern and Southern California. It can carry as many as 600 of your telephone calls at one time. Together with our many other microwave and cable routes, the new coaxial cable gives communities all over the Pacific West another important link with one another. And it helps us keep pace with your ever-growing desire for fast, efficient telephone service.

* * * * *

Microwave and coaxial cable, because they carry so many calls at once, not only improve long distance service, they help keep long distance rates low. You can call clear across the country for only $2.00 plus tax. That's the station-to-station rate for a three-minute call after 6 p.m. weekdays and all day Sunday. Calling long distance is fun. And with rates like this, you can afford to call often.

CHP Chief Urges Safety Belts for Everyone in Car

Use an approved seat belt properly installed if you want to lessen the possibility of serious injury in a traffic collision warns the California Highway Patrol.

"The Patrol is continually testing various seat belts and has approved 65 different makes to date for sale in California," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Installation directions are also checked and should be followed stricty to get full benefit from any approved seat belt.

Studies by organizations such as the Automobile Crash Injury Research Group at Cornell University Medical College have shown the value of seat belts in reducing or eliminating injuries in traffic accidents," Caldwell stated.

"The Patrol has successfully been using seat belts since 1953 and all new cars purchased by the State of California are equipped with belts.

We strongly advise passengers as well as drivers use available seat belts whenever the car they are in is in motion," Caldwell continued. "Seat belts must be approved, installed properly and in use if they are to furnish the utmost in safety and protection."

CAMPBELL TEACHER GIVES ART DISPLAY

Mrs. Marion Winston, art teacher at Campbell High School, displayed her method of teaching art to teenagers at a recent meeting of the Los Gatos Art Association. On hand with poster paint and brushes to assist Mrs. Winston were three Campbell High School students, Jean Clewett, Joyce Bangert and Sharon Dunn.

Mrs. Winston used background music for creating the effects she wished expressed in the students' pitcures. These were painted from imagination only. Samples of classroom work were exhibited, representing specific projects such as diagonal, vertical or horizontal effects.

Mrs. Winston said that the classroom work is intended to give students an over-all background of good design and color through experimentation and activity, a skill which they might use in many fields of work other than art careers.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

New Roses For 1957

To the Rose fancier, the each year's seltection of roses is awaited with the same breathless anticipation as are the new styles in gowns by fashion designers and women everywhere. And, certainly, this year, there will be no disappointment in the new varieties.

Of course the big news is the All America Rose Award winner. This year, the first is White Bouquet, a pale cream to snowy white Floribunda, which grows a compact plant one and a half to two feet in height with large and gardenia-like flowers. Still too new to be found in many nurseries, White Bouquet will be available in most nurseries which specializes in roses. A second new Floribunda, Moonsprite, has much the same coloring as White Bouquet, pale gold to white. Moonsprite was also considered but did not win the All America selection. It also, is still too new to be readily available anywhere but in nurseries which specialize in roses.

Also among this year's new roses which offers a wide variety of rose types and blossom colors is a new climbing rose in the All America Award class. It is Golden Shower which blooms profusely in clear, golden yellow blooms from spring to late fall. A versatile selection for any California gardener, Golden Showers can be grown as a self-supporting pillar rose, a cascading shrub or as a climber.

New also is a selection of roses which should leave no California Gardener unsatisfied in his search for a new rose to plant is an established All America Rose Selection of several years ago. It is Chrysler Imperial available now for the first time in climbing rose form. Reputed to surpass even the famed Paul Scarlet in this class for color and beauty, the Chrysler Imperial is as the aforementioned Golden Showers available almost everywhere.

Also a climber and new on the Rose horizon is Spectacular, a rose that bears scarlet buds that open to double blooms of orange-red. This color is new in climbers, says the California Association of Nurserymen and because it is new, will add brilliance to garden walls and fences. Ask for this at your nursery for it is still too new to be widely available.

In the Hybrid tea group, Lady Elgin is new. Growing on a four to five plant, Lady Elgin bears flowers of a burnt orange color and performs well throughout the state. Another new hybrid tea is Living, a beautiful Rose, orange-red in color which grows to four feet in height.

The clear pink flowers of Linda Porter will be seen for the first time on the West Coast this season. This hybrid tea bears flowers of pink delicately shaded in apricot with an over-all satiny effect.

Deep, dark and with a rich, spicy fragrance, Midnight, another new hybrid Tea for 1957, has slender buds and blooms of dark red. Its plant is tall and the foliage quite mildew-resistant.

The new Roses for 1957 include a large selection of colors, shades and plant type and the local nurseryman is well stocked with many of them. He has many of the established varieties too as well as the supplies and equipment needed for correct Rose cuture.

Early Camellias

One of the best ways to brighten bedraggled and colorless midwinter garden—and nearly every California garden suffers from such an ailment during these weeks—is to grow winter-blooming Camellias.

Camellias bloom throughout the fall and winter, beginning in September and ending in April. Many of the Camellias which began blooming in fall are blooming yet—these are called the early Camellias and they include such outstanding varieties as Alba Plena, a large,formal white, and Chandleri Elegans, which is rose-pink and white with peony-like blossoms.

Early blooming pink Camellias are Daikagura a rose pink splotched white, and Debutante, light pink with a large, full, peony-type bloom. Red Camellias blooming early include Manana and Mandarin.

There are a great many more early blooming Camellias in white, pink, reds and variegations of these colors.

The California Association of Nurserymen recommends that Camellias be planted where they will have protection from extreme summer sun and prevailing winds. Camellias grow well in a variety of soils, ranging from slightly acid to sightly alkaline; an acid soil is not essential for Camellias are amazingly adaptable to soil and climate. Camellias can be successfully grown throughout the state.

To prepare the planting hole make it large enough so the roots will spread out in a natural position. Place drainage material—rocks, gravel, etc.,—in the bottom of the hole and plant the Camellia at the same depth it was in, in the container. Water Camellias regularly from April to November until the rains begin. A surface mulch will help hold the moisture in. Fertiizing should be done when new plant growth starts at the end of the rainy season—March or April. Check with the local nurseryman for the correct types and amounts to apply.

Bare Root Fruit Trees

Mid-winter days are tree-planting days. Now while deciduous fruit trees are in a dormant state, it's time to plant them bare root style.

You can choose varieties of apple, apricot, peach, plum, pear, or nut trees for planting now. In preparing the planting now, make sure it is large enough to allow the roots to spread out naturally. Set the tree on a mound of soil at the bottom. Place each tree in at same depth it was planted in the nurscery. (The dirt ring above the roots shows that level.) Spread out the roots, watching for breaks and bruises; broken roots should be removed with a clean cut. Work the soil in around the roots to avoid air pockets. When the hole is three-fourths full, soak to settle the soil and when the water drains away fill up the hole with loose topsoil and water again.

Around the tree build a watering basin about six inches high and several inches wider than the planting hole. If your garden soil drains poorly or is very hard you can place soil in a raised bed above the garden floor and set the tree into this raised area. Your nurseryman can give you the correct planting instructions for your particular situation.

It's a good idea to stake all young trees or support them with guy wires, says the California Association of Nurserymen. Feeding a newly planted tree should not start until the tree is established—six months or a year after planting. Mulching around the tree will prevent soil packing due to watering or traffic and will also keep down the weeds. Spread on peat moss or sawdust as a mulch.

GETS IMPORTANT POST

State Senator John F. "Jack" Thompson, now serving his second term in the upper house of the State Legislature, has been named chairman of the important Public Health Committee. With the public's attention focused on recent investigations of the State mental hospitals, the Senator's committee will play a major role in resolving these problems.

Family Service Public Dinner Meeting Slated

"Where We've Been and Where We're Going" will be the theme when past and future of Family Service Association of Santa Clara County will be discussed at its annual dinner meeting next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in St. Francis Episcopal Church, 1205 Pine St., San Jose.

The meeting, open to the public and association members, will feature three officials of the Red Feather agency who will briefly outline how the association helps the community and what the community can do to help Family Service. Although the agency is located in San Jose, its clients come from all areas of Santa Clara County.

President Walter Borchers will discuss the association's board of director's role in helping people readjust their emotional lives and plans for expanding the service of the agency.

Executive director Leonard McConnell will explain how the board's policy is interpreted and put into action in the continuing battle against family disorders and juvenile delinquency.

Finally, Mrs. Gertrude Conrad, a member of the Family Service staff, will tell of the social worker's role in the program.

Following the talks, a question and answer period will be held to allow those attending to learn more about the agency's work.

Persons wishing to attend may make reservations by contacting McConnell at CYpress 5-7664 or 379 West San Carlos St., San Jose.

Commercial forest land is described as land that is capable of producing timber crops of commercial value and is available for that purpose.

Rites Held for Mrs Thompson, 96

Mrs. Carrie L. Thompson, 96, passed away recently after a week's illness. She had been making her home with a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Galen Thompson, for the past five years.

A native of Jamestown, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Thompson lived most of her life in eastern Ohio, before coming to California nine years ago. Although she was unable to walk, Mrs. Thompson was active and alert until her final illness, and kept up with her many friends and relatives, according to her daughter, Mrs. Nelson Cowdery.

She was a life member of the Eastern Star in Hartford, Ohio, and a charter member of Cambrian Park Methodist Church.

She leaves four children: Mrs. Dorothy Blair and Galen E. Thompson of Cambrian Park, Charles L. Thompson of Hartford, Ohio, and Arthur C. Thompson, Sr. of Tularosa, New Mexico, besides twelve grandchildren and seventeen great grandchildren.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Florence Buell of Alameda, Mrs. Alice Cowdery of Campbell, and a broher, Arthur L. Bascom, of Warren, Ohio.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Sargent Wright, pastor of Cambrian Park Methodist Church, at 2 p.m. January 16 from Campbell Memorial Chapel. Her remains were flown to her home town in Ohio, where she will be buried beside her husband, who passed away many years ago.

Point Barrow, the extreme northern part of Alaska, and Rose Island, American Samoa, are the northern and southernmost points in United States territory.

State Health Dept Aims at Protection From Polio in 1957

Immunization of California's population under the age of 40 against polio, broader attention to the old and their chronic diseases, and the protection of the public from the use of radioactive materials are the objectives of the State Department of Public Health, it was announced this week by Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director.

Since Salk vaccine became available in 1955, an estimated two-and-a-half-million persons have received at least one inoculation. Most of these persons were under the age of 20—affording them sufficient protection to reduce the incidence of paralytic polio about 85 per cent, among those who received two or more of the recommended three inoculations.

With vaccine available, the State Health Department's objective in 1957 is to assure the immunization of the six million persons under the age of 40, the age-group of highest polio risk, Merrill said.

This goal was supported recently by Governor Goodwin J. Knight when he announced that he would seek a three million dollar appropriation from the State Legislature to buy polio vaccine, and for the administration of a program which would provide enough vaccine to give two innoculations to two million persons.

The program would cover approximately one-third of the highest risk population, and would include those who recieved only one or two of the three inoculations recommended.

"It is hoped the state program will give the incentive for the remainder of the risk population to seek protection by vaccination from their private doctors", Merrill said.

The greatest single cause of death in California among old people is heart disease, according to the department. It accounts for more than one-third of all deaths. Not only do the major chronic diseases, such as heart disease, concentrate in the older age groups, but even such traditional public health problems as tuberculosis and accidents kill and cripple a great number of old people.

In 1956, the department undertook a series of studies which included attention to eating habits, type of work, exercise, patterns of cigarette smoking and other factors suggested as responsible for heart disease.

The department also is interested in joining in programs concerned with the protection of the public against health hazards arising from the peacetime use of atomic energy. By legislative action, the department is responsible for the supervision of getting rid of radio-active wastes, Merrill said.

The department also is studying the spread, intensity and occurrence of smog, Dr. Merrill reported.

A step toward providing additional recreational areas in the state, and still keeping health standards, was made in December when the State Board of Public Health approved regulations governing the use of water supply reservoirs for recreational purposes.

Dr. Merrill said that reported cases of rabies in domestic animals and wildlife were enough last year to warrant continuation of control programs.

Reviewing the department's hospital and health center program, the director reported that approximately $12 million in state and federal matching funds were allocated last year for construction or improvement of 21 hospital and health center facilities.

During the early years of the program assistance was given primarily for the development of relatively small facilities in rural areas, but more recently has been shifted to the development of larger hospitals located in suburban areas which have experienced rapid population growth.
